Your Duty of Disclosure

Before you enter into a contract of general insurance with an insurer, you have a duty, under the Insurance Contracts Act 1984, to disclose the insurer every matter that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, is relevant to the insurer's decision whether to accept the risk of insurance, and, if so, on what terms. You have the same duty to disclose those matter to the insurer before you renew, extend, vary or reinstate a contact of general insurance. Your duty however does not require disclosure of matter:

- that diminishes the risk to be undertaken by the insurer;
- that your insurer knows or, in the ordinary course of his business, ought to know
- as to which compliance with your duty is waived by the insurer.

Non-Disclosure

If you fail to comply with your duty of disclosure, the insurer may be entitled to reduce its liability under the contract in respect of a claim or may cancel the contract. If your non-disclosure is fraudulent, the Insurer may also have the option of voiding the contact from its beginning.

6. Declarations:

I/We declare that we have read and agreed to all the above/enclosed notices and all information contained in the proposal form is true and correct in every particular way and I/we acknowledge that the insurer will rely on this information in deciding to give cover, and on what terms. I agree to accept the Insurer's policy subject to the terms and conditions to be contained therein.
